

DO YOU NEED A STATE PERMIT?

Following is a partial listing of projects which may require permits from the Agency of Natural Resources and telephone numbers for Regional Offices. This is not a complete listing of permitting requirements. Copies of the Permit Handbook are available from the Environmental Assistance Division at 241-3456.

Water Supply and Wastewater Disposal Permits: As of July 1, 2007, Water Supply and Wastewater Disposal Permits are issued through the State of Vermont, Environmental Protection Division of the Agency of Natural Resources. You may contact the State's permit specialist at 802.786.5907 with any questions; or State engineer Roger Thompson at 802.241.3027 with questions about septic system rules. The complete rules are also available on the internet at: <http://www.anr.state.us/dec/ww/rules.htm#os>. You will need an engineer/site technician to design your water supply and wastewater disposal system. A copy of the state permit and a copy of the engineer/site technician's system design is required at the time your Application for Zoning Permit is received by the town.

Act 250: In addition to projects described above, an Act 250 permit may also be required for projects such as five or more lots of land of any size subdivided within five years, five or more dwelling units, commercial projects depending upon the size of land on which they are located, logging or any construction above 2500', municipal projects involving more than ten acres, substantial or material changes to previously permitted pre-existing projects. To determine whether or not you need a permit, please call your Regional Office for a Project Review Sheet from a District Coordinator. 476-0195 or 476-0185.
